Tamar A Novel Of Espionage

Tamar is a young-adult novel by Mal Peet, published by Walker Books in 2005. Within a 1995 frame story, where a 15-year-old girl inherits papers and other mementos from her deceased grandfather, it is set in the occupied Netherlands near the end of the Second World War; there it features two British-trained Dutch agents and the resistance to German occupation of the Netherlands.

Tamar (novel) - Wikipedia

The subtitle promises “a novel of espionage, passion, and betrayal.” Sounds like the tagline for a Matt Damon movie. Tamar is a 15-year-old girl uncovering secrets about her namesake (a spy) through a box of coded messages.
